Oats and beans and barley grows, As you and I and First the far-mer sows his seed, Then he sta-nds true and Now you're married you must o-bey, Mus-t be true in ev'-ry one knows, Oats and beans and barley grows, As ta-kes his ease, Stamps and his feet kind and and claps his hand, and al-l you say, Must be kind and must be good, And you and I and ev'-ry one knows, Wait-ing for the part-ner.
turns him round to vi-ew his lands, Wait-ing for the part-ner.
help your wife to ch-op the wood, Wait-ing for the part-ner.
